

My Funeral Was Planned...

But I returned my casket. Good thing I kept my receipt!

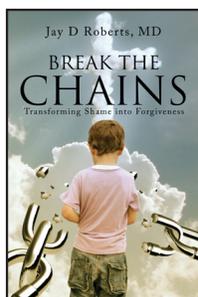

JAY D ROBERTS, MD

15 years ago, Dr. Roberts was near death and full of hatred towards God, himself, and his childhood abuser. He suffered from unforgiveness, a medical condition that is more common than the cold and often lethal—but the cure is free.

Jay D Roberts, MD, is a board-certified physician, specializing in the treatment of pain and wounds with a focus on adding quality to his patients' lives. In addition to his medical practice, Dr. Roberts ministers inside maximum security prisons, and plans to build an orphanage.

"...This vastly inspirational, beautifully written memoir not only demonstrates how traumatic issues from childhood can impact us as adults, but also proves that miraculous solutions abound ..."

— LeAnn Thieman, co-author of Chicken Soup for the Soul: A Book of Miracles
